

Ease Teacher Shortages with Virtual Instructors

Highly qualified, certified virtual instructors and tutors support student progress for grades K–12

What people think when they hear “virtual teacher”:

An actual virtual teacher:

With so many teachers leaving the classroom, districts are looking for ways to continue meeting student needs. Virtual solutions can sound impersonal, but online instructors are not powered by AI — they are real, certified teachers who establish strong relationships with students just like they would in a physical classroom.

Virtual teachers...

- ✓ Listen to animated first-graders tell circuitous stories
- ✓ Encourage students to incorporate their passion into their schoolwork
- ✓ Celebrate when students move toward reading at grade level
- ✓ Relish the lightbulb moments
- ✓ Get drop in emails from former students, just saying “hi”

Maintain Learning Momentum

Virtual instruction helps districts serve more students while prioritizing their success

Learning depends on having experienced, knowledgeable educators in place to lead students to success. When gaps in staffing disrupt your district's ability to provide an enriching experience, utilizing highly qualified, certified online instructors can not only help meet student needs, but also lighten the load for teachers.

Virtual Instructors

- ✓ Serve as teacher of record, monitor progress, grade assignments, hold office hours
- ✓ Provide one-on-one and small-group support
- ✓ Use data to inform frequent communication with families and district

Concept Coaches

- ✓ Deliver real-time, one-on-one tutoring in core courses
- ✓ Available on demand, seven days a week
- ✓ Easy to access with a click of the 'Tutoring Help' button in the course platform

Small-Group Support

- ✓ Group students by shared learning needs, let us do the rest
- ✓ Certified educators deliver best practices for intervention
- ✓ Students also have access to one-on-one, on-demand tutoring

Speech-Language Teletherapy

- ✓ FERPA- and HIPAA-compliant speech-language services
- ✓ Engaging, IEP-aligned therapy minutes by experienced SLPs
- ✓ Transparent reporting allows you to measure compliance

“Can I just say how fantastic the teachers are? They are the secret sauce to my program’s success. Parents regularly comment on how much they and their students love the teachers.”
